Introduction

The Oregon Department of Geology and Mineral Industries computer data base of 7655 mineral sites was used to generate a list of "abandoned" mines and mills on U.S. Forest Service land that might contain hazardous wastes.

The work was performed for the U.S. Forest Service under purchase order number 40-04H1-1-1567. The study was to be conducted in three phases. The assumptions and criteria for phases 1 and 2 are listed later in this report. The three phases are as follows:

Phase 1. Utilize DOGAMI MILO database to identify possible candidate sites given the nature of the existing record. Four types of sites are anticipated.

- a. High likelihood
- b. Possible
- c. No determination
- d. No hazard

Phase 2. Identify additional characteristics of sites with phone interviews involving personnel in key agencies. This information would modify categories a, b, and d and would move all sites out of category c, depending on results of survey.

Phase 3. Field visits to Class A sites and completion of forms to provide a preliminary field rating based upon scope and criteria for HAZMAT sites provided by the U.S. Forest Service.

The deliverable is a list of sites in need of further field sampling and verification for HAZMAT determinations.

The computer database for Phase 1 is the Open-File Report O-91-4, "Mineral Information Layer for Oregon by County - MILOC", which contains mineral occurrences, raw prospects, developed prospects, and mines for 7655 sites. The original data sources for MILOC were the U.S. Bureau of Mines mainframe MILS database, U.S. Geological survey mainframe CRIB/MRDS database, and the Department's Mined Land Reclamation files. The data entry for the federal databases ended in 1981. The Department's data is as of 1991. Of these sites, about half were taken off the database because they were not on Forest Service land. Of these, all but 1105 were dropped because the mineral commodities for the site were sand and gravel or stone, which were assumed to pose no hazardous waste problems.

These 1105 sites are sorted both by COUNTY and by HAZMAT on the enclosed hard copy and on the floppy disk. Of the 89 original data fields, 40 were most useful to characterize the site from a hazardous material standpoint. For the most part, the 41 field (HAZMAT) was determined from the other 40. However, for Phase 2 other Departmental data, including personal knowledge, were used to change most of the "C" (no determination) to other categories. The 41 field names and explanations are as follows:

Field	Field Name	Explanation
1	SITE_NAME	Self explanatory
2	SYNONYM	Other names than the site has had over time, or in the case of placers, names of other gravel bars along a river segment for which one location was chosen for the site name

Assumptions

1. Those sites with the STATUS field entry having a "1" (mineral occurrence or "2" (raw prospect) would rate an entry of a "D" for no hazardous waste in the HAZMAT field. The reasoning being that there would not be any concentrating of natural hazardous material and there would be no reason to bring hazardous materials onto the site.

2. Those sites that may or may not have hazardous waste material but have DOGAMI reclamation permit (an "OPA" under the PMT field) with bonding also were given a "D". The reasoning being that they are not abandoned and that any site with a reclamation permit and bond from DOGAMI will have had concurrence with the U.S. Forest Service and the bond would cover any clean up costs.
3. Those sites that have minerals commodities (data fields COM OD PRES and/or COMOD PROD) which in themselves would not produce hazardous waste material were rated "D" for the HAZMAT field. Those commodities include clay, cinders, chromite, coal (non-pyrite bearing), diatomite, gemstones, gold (placer), gypsum, manganese, olivine, peat, pumice, shale, silica, tungsten, and zeolite.
4. Those sites that have mineral commodities (data fields COMOC PRES and/or COMOD PROD) which in themselves may produce hazardous waste material were rated an "A" or a "B" for the HAZMAT field. Those commodities include asbestos, antimony, arsenic, and mercury.

Summary

The Department's computer data for Oregon's 7655 mineral occurrences, raw prospects, developed prospects, and mines was used to generate a list of sites that might be classified as hazardous waste sites under section 120 of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA). Of the 7655 sites, half were not on U.S. Forest Service land, and over half of those that were on the Department's land were sand and gravel and stone.

Eliminating these commodities left 1105 sites for further analysis. The enclosed list shows, 32 sites with a high likelihood of hazardous waste "A", and 34 with a possible likelihood of hazardous waste "B". The likelihood of hazardous waste being present or not could not be determined for 29, even using other Department data and personal knowledge from the field offices. The remaining 1010 were determined to have no hazardous waste "D".

As per the purchase order number 40-04-HI-1-1567, Phase 1 and 2 have been completed.

The deliverable (a list of sites in need of field sampling and verification for HAZMAT determination) is in the form of a hard copy and on a 5½ inch floppy computer disk. The list is sorted two ways. The first is HAZMAT, COUNTY, TOWNSHIP, RANGE and the second is COUNTY, HAZMAT, TOWNSHIP, RANGE. The delivered floppy disk gives the U.S. Forest Service the option of resorting the list and printing it out in other configurations.

The field visits (Phase 3) for the 95 "A", "B", and "C" needs to be completed to verify the need for sampling and other test work.

Dear Bob:

The following language is a summary of what we would do under the purchase order we have discussed for the preliminary identification of possible HAZMAT mine sites in Oregon.

Phase 1. Utilize DOGAMI MILO database to identify possible candidate sites given the nature of the existing record.

Four types of sites are anticipated:

- a. High likelihood
- b. Possible
- c. No determination
- d. No hazard

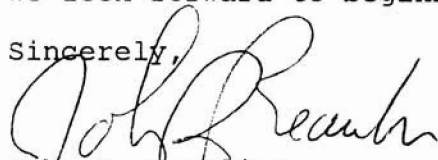

Phase 2. Identify additional characteristics of sites with phone interviews involving personnel in key agencies. This information would modify categories a, b, and d and would move all sites out of category c, depending on results of survey.

Phase 3. Field visits to Class A sites and completion of forms to provide a preliminary field rating based upon scope and criteria for HAZMAT sites provided by the U.S. Forest Service.

Deliverable. List of sites in need of further field sampling and verification for HAZMAT determinations.

If you should need any further clarification, please contact me. We look forward to beginning the project as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

Screening Criteria

Instruction: It is intended that these criteria be answered by Ranger District personnel or local specialists that are familiar with the sites. Their answers should be based on their knowledge and experience of the site rather than on basis of additional literature search and field verification. If they do not have information or knowledge adequate to make a "yes" or "no" determination additional information should be sought that will provide an answer. This may include additional literature search or a field visit to the site.

For a site to be eliminated from further review both of criteria 1 and 2 must be answered "no"; Or, all of criteria 3 through 9 must be answered "no". The ownership category "U-unknown" should be used only if ownership is not known and screening criteria 3 through 9 are all negative.

1. Is all or a portion of the mine site located on NFS lands? (yes or no or unknown)
2. Is the mine site located entirely on private land but possibly affecting NFS lands and resources in the form of off-site impacts? (yes or no or unknown)
3. Is a mill site or tailings deposit present? (yes or no)
4. Are there adits with a discharge? (yes or no)
5. Is there surface water impounded on the site, including evidence of seasonal impoundments? (yes or no)
6. Are there waste rock piles or tailings in a floodplain or streamside zone that show signs of water erosion or mass instability? (yes or no)
7. Are there hazardous materials/wastes on site that are not purely mining waste materials (i.e., process chemicals)? (yes or no)
8. Are there open adits, shafts, or dangerous structures/conditions present? (yes or no)
9. Are there residences or established public use areas within 200' of waste materials? (yes or no)

Prioritization Criteria

Instruction: These criteria are designed primarily to identify and weight for priority those sites that may involve potential CERCLA/CWA problems. Each criterion identifies a potential for effecting human health or the environment. To assign a weighted value to a particular site each criterion listed below that is applicable to a given site is assigned a value of 1. Under this procedure the more pathways and targets that could be affected, the higher will be the weighted value for the site, and the higher will be the assigned priority to do additional site investigation work.

1. Site is in a municipal watershed.
2. There are domestic water wells within a 4 mile radius of the site.
3. There are downstream surface water intakes within 15 miles of the site.
4. There are dwellings/residences within 200' of mine waste materials or deposits.
5. There are camping areas or other high public use areas in the vicinity of mine waste materials or deposits.
6. There is known or suspected discharge into surface waters that support fisheries.
7. There is known or suspected damage to downstream aquatic communities, wetlands, or sensitive environments.
8. There is known or suspected contamination of the ambient air.
9. There is suspected contamination of run-off waters as indicated by low ph and/or high conductivity readings relative to background readings.

DESCRIPTION

Identify possible abandoned mines and/or mill sites which may be classified as a hazardous waste site under Section 120 of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA).

Task 1. Utilize DOGAMI MILO database to identify possible candidate sites given the nature of the existing record. Identify four types of sites:

- A. High likelihood of hazardous wastes.
- B. Possible likelihood of hazardous wastes.
- C. No determination.
- D. No hazard.

Task 2. Identify additional characteristics of sites with phone interviews involving personnel in key agencies. This information would modify categories A, B, and D, and would shift all sites out of category C, depending on the results of the survey.

Task 3. Visit category A sites and complete forms to provide a preliminary field rating based upon scope and criteria provided by the Forest Service for hazardous waste sites.

Deliverable. List of abandoned mine and mill sites located on National Forest System lands in Oregon which have a high or possible likelihood of containing hazardous waste or hazardous materials.

BACKGROUND

The WO issued the following general instructions in March:

"By the end of FY 1993 (9/93), complete Dis/PA/SI on all CERCLA mining and sanitary landfill sites that have known or suspect releases of hazardous substances that may cause damage to public health or welfare or to the environment.

"Discovery/PA/SI stage:

Discovery,

- * Consider total number of sites; inactive or closed sites only.
- * Screen total number of sites to those sites which may have suspect or known hazardous substance releases that may cause damage to public health or welfare or to the environment. Screening shall be performed by person(s) knowledgeable in geomorphology/hydrology or similar sciences and in hazardous waste laws/regulations. Utilize District and local people experience. Visit suspect sites to ascertain need for performing PA.

Preliminary Analysis,

- * Perform only on sites identified in Discovery stage (may be only small portion of total sites, ie., 1 in 500-100 claims or 1 in 5-25 landfills).

- * Perform PA using EPA's draft PA Scoresheets. PA's should be performed by trained in-Service personnel or by contract.

Site Investigation,

- * Perform only on those sites where testing is needed to confirm or quantify releases of hazardous substances."

SOLE SOURCE OF JUSTIFICATION

The Oregon Department of Geology and Mineral Industries (DOGAMI), by virtue of their statutory authority under the Mined and Reclamation Act, is the only single source of information regarding abandoned mines, previous mining and processing history, and condition of rehabilitation. They maintain this information in a database called MILO, which contains the most up-to-date information published. Previous purchase orders (from the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management) supplemented the data base to specifically include NFS and Public Domain lands, respectively. DOGAMI can readily access this database, and overlay the information onto a GIS with surface ownership, to abstract only NFS lands. No private contractor would be able to do the same job.
